VERMONT NEWS.

Milo C. Ruling, a prominent democrat and business man of Bennington county, died March 22, as the result of a shock of apoplexy, aged 70 years. He had resided in North Bennington over 60 years. For 50 years he was in business. He was a selectman for 15 consecutive years, town representative two years, postmaster under the first Cleveland administration, and had been largely identified with the business interests of the town. Mrs. F. E. Burgess of Burlington, is a daughter.

A good roads association is in process of formation among the delegates appointed to represent Vermont at the state road convention held at Hartford. Conn. The headquarters of the associa-tion will probably be located in Burling-

H. G. Thomas, commissioner of fisheries and game, recently mailed a circular letter to each warden in the state, warning them of the importance of watching dogs to see that they did not chase deer by crusting. On last week Tuesday Ira Bentley of Sunderland, who owned a hound that chased and killed a deer, was arrested and fined $100.

The new and handsome hospital built and presented to the town of Proctor by the Vermont Marble Co. was opened for inspection, Saturday. It will be opened for patients this week. The entire cost of the plant was $35,000 and it is complete in every way.

Senator Proctor has introduced a joint resolution in the Senate authorizing the librarian of the congressional library to deliver to the government of Vermont for preservation in the archives of that state the original records, now in the librarian's possession, of certain conventions held in Vermont in 1776 and 1777 for the purpose of organizing a state.

John Goebel, assistant secretary at the Burlington Y. M. C. A. since last September, when he succeeded Byron N. Clark, has resigned and will finish his duties April 1. Mr. Goebel will take a short vacation at his home in Docgville, N. Y. before continuing in association work in another field. He is a graduate of the Chicago training school and came to Burlington from there.

Col. H. E. Taylor has been recommended by Congressman Haskins for appointment as postmaster at Brattleboro, to succeed the late Dr. Dan P. Webster. Col. Taylor is a veteran of the civil war and has been commander of the Vermont department G. A. R. He has been active in the Vermont National Guard and served as Gov. W. P. Dillingham's chief of staff.

The Vermont musical festival will be held at Howard Opera House, Burlington, June 13 and 14. Madame Schuman-Heink is the star attraction. Among other artists are Messrs. Miles, Archambault, Johnson and Kronold, Madam Maconda, Miss Marguerite Lemon and Madam Bouton. There will be four concerts, two in the afternoon and two in the evening. The season tickets are $4

The file kept in the office of the state superintendent of education at Montpelier of the names of clerks in the various towns and cities of Vermont, brings out an interesting fact. In the 246 cities and towns of the state only 17 changes were made at the March elections, of town and city clerks. Since that election J. H. Carpenter, who was re-elected town clerk of Richford, has died and H. H. Rounds has been elected in his place. This makes a total of 18 changes out of 246 officers. A further interesting fact shown is that ex-Gov. Samuel E. Pingree has been town clerk of the town of Hartford for 44 years.

Three farmers filed petitions in bank-ruptcy Friday in the office of the clerk of the United States courts, at Burlington. They were as follows: C. R. Witherell, of Cornwall, who has liabilities of $13,-390 and assets of $10,098, of which $1,092 are claimed exempt; H. D. Cole, of Hardwick, who has liabilities of $1,036.31 and assets of $485, of which $215 are claimed exempt; C. M. GENERAL NEWS.

The Service Pension.

According to calculations made by Commissioner Ware himself, the service pension order will add to the list entitled to pensions at least 321,000 surviving soldiers who are more than 62 years of age, and by the lowest scale provided for in the order, $6 a month, this would amount to $23,112,000 annually. This sum must necessarily be increased by millions by more exact calculations. It is very easy to see that a "service pension by the stroke of the pen" means a great deal more money to the government than has yet been estimated by any member of the administration who has been making excuses for the order.

Simple Way to Gain Weight. "Mi-o-na. the Flesh Forming Food. Gives Remarkable Results," Says Druggist W. B. Eastman.

Mi-o-na makes thin people fat. It gives perfect digestion and cures all stomach troubles.

The scrawny, emaciated person always has more or less trouble from indigestion. Mi-o na will overcome all the ills afflicting the poor, weak, thin dyspep-tics. It makes them plump and gives bealth and strength. It strengthens the digestive organs and restores health so that the daily tood is readily assimilated and makes solid bone and firm muscle, rich blood and healthy flesh.

In St. Johnsbury there are many people who have proven in their own case the remarkable flesh forming qualities of Mi-o-na. It can be used by the most delicate. It contains no alcohol and is not a cod liver oil preparation. It comes in small tablets, costing 50c a box, and it you take one tablet before eating, you can enjoy a hearty meal and feel that health and good flesh will quickly and

W. B. Eastman will give a written guarantee with every box of Mi-o-na he sells to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. You certainly can afford to commence using Miona with the understanding that it costs nothing unless you are cured.

LETTER FROM JOHN W. TITCOMB. The Carnival at Buenos Aires - Far from the Madding Crowd .- A Danville Boy in the Government Employ .-The Revolution in Uraguay .- A Verment Diplomat Hard at Work.

EDITOR CALEDONIAN:

I have a recollection that I promised to write you while here and now there is but one more mail before I start for may arrive ahead of my letter, but I will keep my promise.

Last Saturday night at midnight was the beginning of a three days' carnival here. No one of those taking part has been able to explain its origin. It always precedes the lenten season and someone explained that for three days preceding, the people are unrestrained and permitted to show how frivolous and wicked they can be. The minister at the "American church" said yesterday that it seemed as if all the wickedness of the city was allowed to rise to the surface and to go rampant, unrestrained even by the police. I presume he had reference to the rowdyism which breaks loose in a community where everybody or anybody can masksuch as is sometimes displayed at home in a "ragamuffin" parade. Then, too, at all the theatres and opera houses are dances patronized by the "demi-monde." But with all that it is no worse than our 'wide-open towns" in the west. Among the respectable people the carnival has a very pretty celebration. The children put o carnival attire and mask or not as they choose. Among the young ladies and gentlemen mild flirtations are carried on. The parade of carriages at night is interesting and the streets are prettily trimmed with flags, bunting and colored lights. The carnival is celebrated throughout Spanish America, introduced here from Spain. In fact, it is celebrated in all Latin countries.

As I remarked that I went to church vesterday I will explain that it is the first convenient opportuninty I have had to attend and I went because I had heard so much about the minister, a Mr. McLaughlin, and a very earnest preacher. He is very much beloved in the city by all classes, but as you are doubtless aware, most of the church going people here are Catholics. As people had gone out of town for the holidays only about 50 were present, but I might have almost imagined myself in the South church at home. The service at the opening was somewhat spoiled for me because a young minister in the audience, called up to each and 500 will have to be sold to make the "long prayer," prayed for the warring nations, but intimated to the Lord that the war is between Christians and Pagans. But let us pray that the Billiousness, constipation prevent recovery. Cure these with Ayer's Pills.

Japan, Pagan or no Pagan! But about my trip and my work. I have been buried far from civilization most of the time, southwest of Buenos Aires, on the border of Chili and northern Patagonia, a place where every man of importance carried a 38 or 44 Colt revolver and the peons carry knives. Each knows how to use his weapon but the peon with his knife is most adept. First, he can defend himself with it; then it is his only utensil for eating. He will take a bite from one or two pounds of roast meat and by an adept undercut sever the mouthful, close to his lips without cutting off his nose. Finally, this long-bladed knife is used for a toothpick.

The revolvers are seldom used or needed, but the owners know how to use them and as one expressed it, "when you want a gun you want it d-d bad." The Indians of the region make good servants and good wives and the children of the cross between the Anglo Saxon and the Indians are a fine stalwart race. In the region where I was encamped for a long time I bave taken dinner with representatives of seven nationalities at one sitting and I have felt that I should know not only French, English and Spanish but German, Italian and Portuguese. I cannot stop to tell you much. This country has a great future. It needs population to take advantage of its resources. The laboring classes are very inefficient, not to be compared with the same at home. They need education. The races here are very much mixed. In the camp I have accosted a man in Spanish and got a reply in Spanish with an Irish brogue to it. The man had the Irish features, too, but was a native and could not talk English. It is more embarrassing to struggle with my Spanish in accosting someone and then get a reply in very good English. But I am digressing again. Buenos Aires is a modern up-to date city like some of our western cities and very cosmopolitan. It is the seat of governing power and here presidents are made and unmade. The people of the camp, as the rest of the country is called excepting a few cities, have little to say about politics. The government has many efficient employes from other countries, sought especially for their ability in some particular line. Among these Walter G. Davis of Danville is prominent. As head of the Meteorological Bureau he O. V. Hooker & Son, has brought this branch or the service up to the highest point of efficiency and is recognized as a man progressive and of authority by scientists in Europe. It is a strange coincidence that I found in the first assistant sub director in the Officina Meterologiaca for the Province of Buenos Aires, George O. Wiggins, a man from Exeter, N. H., where I attended the schools and academy. His wife was also from Exeter but although both are of a younger generation than myself, it was very pleasant to be entertained by them and have an opportunity to reminisce over the acquaintances and friends of my Exeter days. Mr. Wiggins has a responsible position under Mr. Davis. He has the reputation of baving mastered the language of the country so that a native would believe him native born. I might mention many others from the United States who have been called here for spec-

lishman who had come here under a two years' contract to make recommendations with reference to prison reform and I imagine he, as an expert, has an important work before him. I mention this to show that the country is progressive and anxious to profit by the experience of older countries. The revolution in Uruguay does not disturb people here and many who went to Montevideo for the summer months still remain there. It is a war for the spoils of office. The revohome on which I can send a letter and I | Intionists merely want more plums than they have been recently receiving. As I am going to Montevideo on business the last of the week I have just been to secure a passport from our minister, Hon. John Barrett to whom I am indebted for many courtesies since I have been here. He has become very popular, not only among the English and American population, but among the natives and other nationalities. He is working hard and is already fully posted on the wonderful resources of this country, as a report he showed me proves. He says he is trying to carry out the same policy pursued by him in Siam and Asia generally, viz., to develop commercial relations between this country and the United States. His recent report contains the statement that "no other country in the world has before it, comparatively considered, greater undeveloped opportunities of agriculture, commerce and population, together with so much present material progress" as Argentina. As he has had two trips around the world he is a better judge than I, but so far as my experience goes I can believe the statement to be without exaggeration.

Mr. Barrett keeps up an interest in his home state and has been able to supplement the news received by the homesick author of this rambling letter.
